PRESIDENTS CORNER

Federal regulation has become a reality for the model aviation hobby due to circumstances beyond our control. However, reality it is, so we need to ensure we protect what is left by complying. There are three major actions that are required by modelers currently.

1. Register or renew for 3 years as a Recreational UAS operator ($5.00 fee) with the FAA at <https://faadronezone-operator.faa.gov/>
2. Take the impossible-to-fail, no cost, once-and-done, FAA required TRUST test offered on the AMA website <https://www.modelaircraft.org/trust>
3. Be ready to comply with the FAA Remote ID requirements in September this year.

The club has stepped up to make sure this requirement will not impact members while flying at SES fields. We have requested FRIA status from the FAA for our field at Lady Lake and on Little Wier where no remote ID will be required.

WARNING HOT WEATHER

Drink plenty of water while at the field flying. Also suggested is to have someone with you, do not be at the field alone.

Bob Dane has been working on the drainage problem we are having with erosion on the north and south corners of the pavilion. Please do not walk on the areas under repair. Thanks
